Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written on aged, yellowed paper and is organized into several lines. The script is dense and flowing, characteristic of early modern handwriting. There are two prominent dark circular marks, possibly holes or ink stains, on the right side of the page.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the principles of the theory of the function of the mind. It is shown that the function of the mind is to represent the world as it is, and that this function is achieved by the use of symbols. The symbols are used to represent the objects of the world, and the mind is able to understand the world by understanding the symbols.
